

Strike of the Aztec Eagles!

by Jack Fellows

A unique limited-edition of fine art prints honoring Mexico's World War II heroes

General's Collector Edition

Signed by all 11 surviving pilots including three Generals. Comes with 56-minute color video documentary "Squadron 201"

300 prints in English • 201 in Spanish

$245.00 (English or Spanish version)

Regular Edition

Signed by 9 living Squadron 201 pilots

350 prints in English • 150 prints in Spanish

$175.00 (English or Spanish)

Overall print size: 26 1/4 x 30 3/4 inches

Printed on 120-pound acid-free paper

Air Art Northwest

846 South Ginger St.

Cornelius OR 97113

503-359-0424

sig@sigunander.com

Each print is personally signed by pilots of Fighter Squadron 201 of the Mexican Expeditionary Air Force who flew and fought in the Philippines in 1945, including: General Angel Sanchez Rebollo, Coronel Carlos Garduno Nunez and Capitan Miguel Moreno Arreola. The result of five years of research, this is the only fine art edition depicting the Mexican Air Force in World War II and the only edition ever published in English and Spanish. Only 650 copies (English versions) and 350 copies (Spanish versions) have been signed—order yours today!

Squadron 201—the "Aztec Eagles"—an elite unit of the best military pilots in Mexico, recruited by the President to fight with the Allies. Overcoming the obstacles of language, discrimination and differing procedures, they trained in the U.S. before going overseas.

They flew close support missions, assisting American and Filipino troops in the liberation of Luzon. The unit was decorated by the U.S., Mexico and the Philippines for valor. It was the only Mexican military force to serve outside of that country; its participation in the war led to better relations between Mexico and the U.S. To learn more, please visit www.squadron201.com.

Color video documentary
"Squadron 201"
$24.95 if purchased separately.